ASMIK World

Asmik World was a very peaceful kingdom inhabited by the most peaceful of all people who had evolved from dinosaurs. For many years, the good people of Asmik World had no trouble or worries.

Until one day, furious winds began to blow, bringing dark clouds and cold rain to Asmik World. The rain poured on the kingdom for months and months. The people of Asmik World looked into the ominous dark skies and shook their heads. "Maybe we have come under an evil spell", some said. "Perhaps it will clear up tomorrow", others hoped.

But it never happened.

One especially dark morning, a dark tower appeared in the midst of their land that pierced high into the clouds. This giant tower marked the day the land was to be forever covered in darkness and rain.

The village seer claimed that all the unhappiness was the fault of the evil Lord Zoozoon who planned to rule from atop his giant tower. "If Zoozoon is not destroyed, he will eventually conquer Asmik World and destroy us all, the village seer wisely told.

Many brave warriors challenged Zoozoon, never to be heard of or seen again. But there was one young warrior who would yet challenge the evil Lord in his mighty tower. "His name is Boomer and he's our last hope", they said, as he disappeared into the rain, headed for an adventure in the dark tower.

Clearing a Stage

Remember, the holes cannot overlap and you can't dig a hole if you're too close to a wall. Be careful not to fall into your own pit because you will be stuck for a period of time.

Filling a Hole

Boomer should be facing the hole he wants to fill. Don't stand too close or too far from the hole.
